SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION

The purpose of the requested Ordinance is to continue the longstanding practice of adopting a standing ordinance authorizing the Department of Public Works to issue temporary occupancy permits, highway occupancy permits, grant certain types of licenses, rights-of-entry and easements, and to amicably acquire interests in real estate impacting County public works projects and other matters over a stated two-year period of time.

The Public Works Department is responsible for the County's 410 miles of road rights-of-way, several bridges off County roads and thousands of acres of numerous properties for the operations of parks, recreational trails and administrative buildings. The County also owns many excess parcels that are available to convey to interested parties. To carry out County functions and to accommodate the needs of other organizations for the health, safety and welfare of County citizens, the Public Works Department must convey and acquire real property on a routine basis.

Paragraph A of Section 701.02 of the County Administrative Code states, "The County may acquire any real property necessary for carrying out functions." Paragraph C of Section 701.02 of the County Administrative Code states, "The approval of County Council shall be required for authorized by this Section."

However, obtaining approval of separate ordinances for each permit, license agreement, easement, authorization to enter and amicable right-of-way and easement acquisition is cumbersome. For example, the County Public Works Department issues approximately 360 highway occupancy permits each year to various utility companies and to developers for driveways and to connect storm-water facilities to existing County facilities.

In addition, Public Works expects to submit draft ordinances in the near future to clear the rights-of-way to acquire necessary properties for several road and bridge reconstruction projects. Each year, Public Works normally obtains several rights-of-entry to construct drainage facilities on private properties to outlet runoff from County roads and to benefit such properties by reducing flooding.

Reducing the cumbersome time to process an ordinance in each of these cases will reduce delays and the cost of administration. Thus, County Public Works respectfully proposes that County Council continue with the practice of approving a blanket ordinance authorizing the Law Department and the Public Works Department to administer routine permits, conveyances and acquisitions of real property. Such matters include, but are not limited to:

- grants of licenses and rights-of-entry to others for to County property with a resulting benefit to the public.
- grants of rights-of-way and easements on County property to utility companies for public benefit.

- grants of temporary occupancy permits and highway occupancy permits to others for constructing and maintaining facilities within County rights-of-way.
- conveyance of excess real estate to public and non-profit organizations for public purposes.
- acquisitions of rights-of-entry to build road-related facilities on private properties.
- amicable acquisitions of parcels required for public works projects for costs not to exceed the approved budget.
- acceptances of real property donated to the County for public purposes.
