DANIEL J. GRIFFIN

Dan Griffin is a life-long resident of Allegheny County, and is the General Manager of Club Operations for Oxford Development Company. The Oxford Athletic Club in Wexford Pa. features over 150,000 square feet of indoor space and employs more than 175 Allegheny County residents. The Oxford Athletic Club is one of the largest such facilities in the eastern United States. Dan was also the founder and president of the Downtown Athletic Club of Pittsburgh from 1995 until mid 2009, and has been employed in the health and fitness field since 1979.

He was an instructor at the first Nautilus equipped club in the region in 1977 (Steel City Nautilus). From 1981 through 1995, he was employed by Club One as a fitness instructor, was promoted to fitness director and finally to Vice President and General Manager (with ownership). During his tenure at Club One, Mr. Griffin was certified by the American College of Sports Medicine and by the Club Management Institute of IHRSA (held at Michigan University). Club One grew from a single-purpose racquetball facility into a 60,000 sq. foot, full service health and wellness center. In 1995, he divested his interest in Club One and founded the Downtown Athletic Club of Pittsburgh.

Dan was recognized by Junior Achievement of Western Pennsylvania as "business of the year" in 1999, citing Mr. Griffin's dedication to the community and to its youth through his many volunteer and charitable activities. He is a board member of the Tickets for Kids Foundation and is an appointed Finance Council member for St Joseph's O'Hara Township.

Dan has been an active proponent of the Allegheny Regional Asset District since his appointment to the board in 1998. He has served as Vice-Chair in 1999 and 2000, and in 2009. He was elected chair in 2001 and served the maximum two year term.

Dan, his wife, Marian, and their son, Sean, reside in O'Hara Township.
